RALEIGH PEOPLE ARE DIVIDED

As to Passenger Station Accomodations.

Some Want Concourse Enclosed With Glass and Others Do Not—And Corporation Commission Somewhat at Sea—Insane Woman In Wake Jail With No Room For Her In Hospital.

Raleigh, Aug. 25.—The hearing of the exceptions by the Seaboard Air Line and the Southern Railway to the order of the Corporation Commission that the concourse at the union station here shall be enclosed with glass on the side next the train sheds so that it can be heated along with the regular waiting room has been postponed to Saturday. It was to have been today. The railroad companies have petitions with eight hundred signatures protesting against this glass partition and urging that this concourse be left open as a "fresh air haven" for those who do not care to sit in the heated waiting room. The railroads have won over Mayor Wynne, four ex-mayors and great numbers of the business and professional men of the city to their way of thinking as shown by the signatures they have secured to their petitions. There are over one hundred ladies who have signed a petition. What they are asking is that the concourse be left open until it can be shown whether or not the enclosure would be desirable by testing cold weather. The Corporation Commissioners seem to be getting something of a case of "cold feet" in the matter because of the evident impossibility of the people of the city getting together and keeping together as to just what they do want.

Miss Willie Medlin, a middle-aged white woman insane, with a mania to take her own life, is confined in the county jail here because the State hospital authorities insist that there is no room in the hospital for her. The greatest surprise is being manifested at this situation in view of the fact that $500,000 has within the past five years been expended in the enlargement of the hospitals with a view to providing capacity that would meet requirements for ten years or longer. The woman was cared for in the Wake county home until she developed such an insane desire to take her own life that she could not be cared for there. She has jumped into a washpot of boiling water, hacked her throat with a broken plate and done other things calculated to end her life. Superintendent McKee, it is said, can make no promise as to how soon the poor woman can be taken in the hospital.

STUDY CONDITIONS IN NORTHERN INSTITUTIONS.

Executive Board of State Tuberculosis Sanitorium Planning For New Buildings.

The executive board of the State Sanitorium for the treatment of Tuberculosis together with the superintendent, Dr. J. E. Brooks, left yesterday to visit the sanitorium in the Adirondack mountains at Saranac Lake, N. Y., and other institutions for the treatment of tuberculosis, to study conditions and get plans for the new buildings that will be erected at the State Sanitorium at Montrose. The Pennsylvania State Sanitorium will also be visited before the party returns.

Dr. M. E. Street, speaking for the board, stated that they intended to leave no stone unturned to make the North Carolina institution second to no institution of its kind in the country, and as the Saranac Lake sanitorium was an institution of national reputation the board felt that they could get valuable information by visiting it.

In the part were Dr. M. E. Street, of Glendon; Dr. J. E. Brooks, of Montroe, and Dr. J. R. Gordon, of Jamestown. Dr. R. H. Lewis, of Raleigh, will join the party at Washington, D. C.

MR. COUCH'S FUNERAL.

Remains Interred In Iredell County Yesterday—Letter To Wife Gave No Reason For Tragedy.

The funeral of Mr. James A. Couch, who came to his death by his own hand in Richmond on Monday, was held at Zion church in Iredell county, eight miles from Elkin, yesterday. The funeral oration was delivered by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Gywnn, and the burial services were conducted by the Independence, Va., lodge of Masons of which Mr. Couch was a member. The church was crowded to overflowing with sorrowing friends and the floral tributes that had been sent by friends that were unable to attend the last rites were very many and very beautiful.

Mr. Charles Couch, a brother of the deceased, and Mr. W. S. Schaffer, his business partner passed through the city last night en route to Richmond. In speaking of his brother's sad end Mr. Couch stated that the family were still at loss to account for the act of self-destruction. An attack of mental depression which resulted in temporary insanity is the only plausible reason that has been advanced and given credence by Mr. Couch's family and most intimate friends. Mr. Couch was not a victim of any entanglements and his business was in a prosperous condition to all appearances and he had not the slightest cause for worry.

The last letter he wrote on the morning of his death and addressed to his wife did not, as has been expected, give any cause for the rash act. The letter was purely a letter of love and showed by the undertone that he was considering suicide. It was in reality a last farewell and told of his love for her and his children. No mention was made of his intention to take his own life within a few minutes after he finished writing and absolutely nothing in the letter can be taken as a clue to a reason for the deed.

Mrs. Couch and children will remain in the country with Mr. Couch's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Couch for the present and Mr. Charles Couch will continue Mr. Couch's business in Richmond for her.

IN SUPERIOR COURT.

Several Cases of Small Consequence Disposed Of.

In Superior court yesterday morning the trial of the case of Geo. W. Pritchett vs. Greensboro Supply Company was resumed. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff. The case of W. F. Clegg Commission & Brokerage Co. vs. Southern Railway was then taken up, the jury returning a verdict in favor of the plaintiff. The suit was to recover damages on goods not handled properly by the defendant. The suit of J. N. Longest et al vs. R. E. Pearce et al was dismissed. The case of W. H. York vs. Southern Railway was taken up yesterday afternoon and was in progress when court adjourned for the day. The trial will be resumed this morning.

There were no further developments yesterday in the Helms-Holton case, which was decided in favor of Mr. Helms Wednesday. It is expected, however, that attorneys for Mr. Holton will give notice of appeal before the term ends.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Morehead Visiting In Charlotte.

Charlotte News: Congressman and Mrs. John M. Morehead and children, Master Garrett and Miss Katharine Morehead, arrived in the city last night and will be guests, for several days, of Mrs. S. B. Jones, Mr. Morehead's sister. The family spent the summer at their cottage at Morehead and have but recently returned to Spray. Mrs. Morehead as Miss Mamie Garrett, was one of the handsomest women of her native state—Georgia. To beauty of person she adds exquisite poise, charming elegance of manner, and grace of speech. Mrs. Morehead is one of the leaders in Southern diplomatic circles in Washington.

ROCKINGHAM MAN FILES BOND TO MAKE BRANDY.

A Rockingham citizen has expressed a desire to test the prohibition law regarding the rights of a citizen to make brandy for his individual use and accordingly has filed the required bond with Deputy Collector Starbuck. It is supposed that the Rockingham authorities will have a say in the matter if the still is put in operation. So far but three Guilford citizens have given the bond required by the federal government and these have not yet decided to go ahead in defiance of the state law.

Mrs. Mary E. Daniel and grandson, Johnnie House, of Weldon, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Moore.

THE MASONIC HOME.

Committee To Locate Site Will Begin Investigation Next Week.

The committee appointed by the Grand Lodge of Masons to select a site for the location of the Home for Aged and Infirm Masons and their Wives has appointed a subcommittee of three and this committee will on Monday begin an investigation of the several sites offered. Several cities have offered free sites and in addition cash subscriptions and the committee will visit each place and note the advantages and disadvantages if there are any. The committee will also consider the size of the cash donation offered with each site.

Greensboro Masons bestirred themselves some weeks ago and several sites were offered free of charge by citizens. The Masons also canvassed a number of citizens and secured a cash donation of something over two thousand dollars. However, some of the other cities have done better in a financial way than this and if Greensboro Masons want this home located here they should bestir themselves further at once.

As an indication of what the other competing points are doing it may be stated that Shelby has offered a choice of three sites and $5,000 in money.

The committee will go first to King's Mountain and will probably visit Mooresville the same day. The next day, Wednesday, they will look over the situation in Greensboro and most probably also in High Point. Mr. L. C. Clymer, of this city, is a member of the committee.

MARTINS A NUISANCE

People In Vicinity of Court House Compelled To Suffer From Disagreeable Odor.

The martins which each summer come to the city are a nuisance to the lawyers having offices in Court Square. Each night thousands of these birds roost in the trees at the rear of the court house. This has been going on for some months and the number of birds is constantly increasing. Naturally they leave behind a most disagreeable odor which grows more terrific as the number increases. Those occupying the offices to the rear of the court house are figuring on some plan to get rid of the pests, but so far have not succeeded.

It is an interesting sight to see fully five thousand birds come in from their daily haunts and circle around and circle around and around before finally settling in the tree tops for the night. They will tarry here only a short while longer as with the coming of fall they invariably leave for a warmer climate.

Aldermen Meet Tonight.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Board of Aldermen will be held tonight at 8 o'clock. Several matters of business will come up, among which will possibly be the Sunday ordinance, which went over from the last meeting. This matter has been hanging fire for some time and those who petitioned for the repeal of the remainder of the ordinance are of the opinion that the board should in some way recognize their request, either by repealing the ordinance or refusing to do so.

Wanted in Rockingham.

Deputy Sheriff Andrew Wyrick, of White Oak, yesterday arrested Will J. Ray, a white man wanted in Rockingham county on the charge of disposing of mortgaged property. In default of bail Ray was locked up in jail last night to await the arrival of officers from Rockingham county. The arrest was made at White Oak, the fugitive having come here and obtained employment in the mill. As soon as he got the warrant Deputy Wyrick spotted his man and the rest was easy.

Destroyed Some Pomace.

Deputy Collector Starbuck Wednesday destroyed about five hundred gallons of pomace, collected for the purpose of making brandy. He received information that a party was fixing to do some blackading in the northwestern section of Rockingham county, but when he arrived the still had no been put in place. However, the material was there and this was destroyed.

MARKSMANSHIP OF STATE GUARD

Aim Has Been Materially Improved.

During the Past Two Years, Say Officers—Indoor Target Practice the Reason—Chairman Eller Selects Headquarters and Will Proceed to Get Busy—Two Charters Yesterday—Requisition For Prisoner.

Raleigh, Aug. 25.—Governor Kitchin has issued a requisition on the governor of South Carolina for J. W. Reavis, who is wanted in Iredell county for incest. He is now in jail at Spartanburg, S. C., awaiting the North Carolina authorities.

Officers of the North Carolina National Guard are especially proud of the notable advance that the men of the Guard have made in proficiency in marksmanship. The rifle range at Camp Glenn has been in service only two years the improvement the past two years being phenomenal. In 1909, with three regiments shooting there were only 125 marksmen, no sharpshooters and two expert riflemen qualified while for the recent encampments in which only two regiments participated, there were 263 marksmen, two sharpshooters and four experts qualified. A large part of this remarkable improvement is attributed to the use of the indoors target practice that the war department has provided for in those companies that are equipped for taking care of and using this property.

State Democratic Chairman A. H. Eller, has gotten quarters in the State Club building on the west side of Capital Square, a most convenient location with well appointed apartments that the club has arranged to turn over to the Democratic headquarters for the campaign period. Chairman Eller and Secretary Brock will install themselves in these quarters without delay.

Two charters were issued today. One was to the W. A. Simpkins Co., Raleigh, capital $200,000 authorized, and $15,000 subscribed, for developing the Simpkins Prolific Cotton Seed business, with W. A. Simpkins, G. C. Farthing and Chas. W. and P. D. Gold, Jr., as the incorporators. The other charter is to the Hackson & Powell Co., Wake Forest, capital $25,000, for mercantile business, C. L. Jackson principal incorporator.

MR. CRAWFORD'S FUNERAL.

Held From Washington Street Methodist Church In High Point Yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Crawford, Mr. George Crawford and Mr. W. R. Pickard returned yesterday from High Point where they attended the funeral of Mr. Crawford's brother, who died in the Junior Order hospital in that city Wednesday. The services were held in the Washington Street Methodist church and were conducted by Rev. J. E. Thompson, who was raised in the same neighborhood with Mr. Crawford.

The interment took place in the High Point cemetery.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. G. A. Matton, H. C. Fields, W. F. Brown, A. L. Burns, M. H. Shiplett and C. A. Gray. A large number of floral designs were sent by friends from all over the state as the last token of esteem and love to a popular and highly esteemed friend and true gentleman.

The brothers and sisters of the deceased who live in Alamance county went to High Point to attend the the funeral and returned to their homes yesterday afternoon, among them being Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hadley and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Snyder, of Graham; Mr. Graham Crawford, Mr. Fuller Crawford and Mr. Ed Crawford, of Alamance county.

BRIDGE PARTY.

Mrs. John A. Gilmer Entertains In Honor of Mrs. A. M. Huggins.

As a pleasant manner of introducing her guest, and sister, Mrs. A. M. Huggins, of Decatur, Ala., Mrs. John A. Gilmer delightfully entertained a number of friends at her home on Bellemeade street yesterday morning at bridge. There were four tables at cards and Mrs. Max T. Payne was the fortunate winner of the prize a handsome lace fan. A beautiful Japanese rose jar was presented to the guest of honor as a souvenir of a most delightfully spent morning.

ENGAGEMENT OF MISS WATLINGTON ANNOUNCED

Mrs. E. D. Broadhurst Entertains the San Souci Club in Honor of An October Bride-To-Be.

The home of Mrs. E. D. Broadhurst, North Edgeworth street, yesterday afternoon was the scene of one of the most charming social functions of the season, the occasion being a reception given to the members of the Sans Souci club and a few friends to announce the engagement of Miss Hattye Watlington to Mr. S. H. Isler, of Kinston, who will wed in October.

The members of the club and Mrs. J. C. Murchison, of Charleston; Miss Alma McDonald, Miss Sadie Walker, of Winston; Miss Etta Stockard, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. J. B. Stroud, Mrs. E. C. Watlington, and Mrs. J. J. Stone assembled yesterday afternoon at Mrs. Broadhurst's home, having been summoned by invitations that were calculated to arouse the utmost curiosity of the fortunate recipients, and all were eager to learn the names of the latest couple who had fallen victims to Cupid's marksmanship.

The guests were ushered into the front parlor, which was beautifully decorated in roses and white jessamines, where they were served punch. The surprise of the afternoon came when the dining room was thrown open. The dining room was decorated in pink dahlias, the pretty flowers being placed in every part of the room, making a very beautiful scene. The table was covered with beautiful white linen and cluny lace and in the center was a large cut glass basket filled with a bouquet of pink dahlias. After a course of ices little Miss Martha Broadhurst entered carrying a huge bunch of dahlias and each of the guests were presented with a flower attached to which was an envelope, in which was a card bearing the names of the honree, Miss Watlington, and Mr. Simmonds H. Isler and the date October, 1910, and announcing the coming marriage. When little Miss Martha again entered the room she carried a large box which she presented to the guest of honor. When the box was opened it was found to contain a beautiful cut glass vase, a gift of the hospitable and charming hostess.

The announcement of the coming marriage of this popular young couple who number their friends by the hundreds comes as a surprise as they have succeeded in keeping their intentions a profound secret. Mr. Isler is a prominent young business man of Kinston and is from one of the leading families in Eastern North Carolina. Miss Watlington is the charming daughter of Mrs. E. C. Watlington, of this city, and is one of the most popular young ladies of the city.

DOUBLE-HEADER HERE TOMORROW

Two Games to be Played at Cone Park.

First Between White Oak and North Greensboro and Second Between Proximity and Groometown—The Champs Lost To Anderson Yesterday—Spartanburg Won From Winston—Charlotte From Greenville—How They Stand.

Yesterday's Results.

Greensboro 0, Anderson 5.
Spartanburg 6, Winston 0.
Charlotte 4, Greenville 3.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	Pc.
Greenville	61	35	.635
Charlotte	54	46	.540
Anderson	54	48	.529
Winston	48	53	.475
Spartanburg	43	57	.430
Greensboro	43	61	.413

The Double Header.

There will be a double header at the Cone Athletic Park tomorrow. The first game will be between the White Oak team and North Greensboro and will be called at 2:30. This is the deciding game of a series of three, each club having already won a game.

The principal event of the afternoon though will be the second game, which will be called at 4:30, when the strong Proximity team will try conclusions with the team from Groometown. The Groometown team is a good amateur club, as the team representing the Cone Company has found out, and the games will surely be "fraught with interest."

Proximity has only two more games scheduled, a game on Labor Day, September 5, with the Champs and one on September the 10th with a team from Durham.

The Benefit Tickets.

So far $334 have been subscribed toward helping the owners of the ball club out of the deep hole that they are in, a little over one fifth of the amount that the citizens behind the movement expect to raise.

Baseball is decidedly a live issue for the city and it is up to the fans themselves and their friends whether the club owners will finance the team another season or not. The owners of the franchise are loyal to the town and are the real things when it comes to being true fans but they should, they feel, not be called upon to bear the brunt of the whole expense needed in financing the losing proposition as it has been this season. The tickets cost $1 each and are good at either of the four last games of the season next week—a contribution of appreciation of 60 cents for each ticket bought, the tickets being good for gate and grandstand.

The following subscriptions were secured yesterday:

Previously acknowledged, 221; J. C. Hedgepeth, 22; C. M. Vanstory, 2; S. N. Cone, 10; American Motor Co., 5; "Rooter", 4; A. M. Scales, 5; Southern Real Estate Co., 5; Claud Kiser, 10; J. Leslie Abbott, 5; S. L. Gilmer, 1; R. K. Stanley, 1; R. I. Moore, 1; Ernest Clapp, 5; J. C. Cherry, 5; W. M. King, 2; Total, 334.

JUNIORS INITIATE ONE.

Next Thursday Night Greensboro Council Will Have Watermelon Feast.

At last night's meeting of Greensboro Council, No. 13, Junior Order United American Mechanics Mr. C. V. Carpenter was initiated into the mysteries of the order. A number of matters of routine nature were attended to. Messrs. R. T. Thomas and J. H. Spivey were appointed a committee to arrange for a watermelon feast to be given on next Thursday night just after the business meeting.

The committee hopes to make this a big occasion and all Juniors in the city are urged to be present next Thursday night. At the business meeting the representatives to the State Council will make their report. After the business is dispensed with the meeting will adjourn and the Juniors will repair to a convenient lot where the watermelons will be eaten.

FALLS BY WIFE'S BIER.

William Brucksch Kisses Her and Drops Unconscious.

Baltimore Sun.

Just as he had kissed for the last time the lips of his dead wife at the close of the funeral services yesterday afternoon, William Brucksch, 212 Warren avenue, fell unconscious on the floor of his wife's former home, at Light and Well streets. He remained unconscious for nearly 10 hours. Grief-stricken and worn out with continued worry, he was unable to hold up under the nervous strain.

Dr. C. H. Braecklein, 1328 S. Charles street, was called and hastened to the residence. Mr. Brucksch was taken to the Warren avenue house and it was not until late last night that he showed signs of returning consciousness. He was pronounced out of danger this morning and was said to be rapidly improving.

HOW BRUIN BATHES.

Polar Bear Goes in Head First—Other Bears More Cautious.

New York Sun.

"I notice that when the grizzly bear takes to the pool of water he goes in rear end first," said a visitor to the zoo to a keeper.

"Yes, all the bears do that except the polars; they dash in their head first and are fine divers," responded the keeper. "The land bears don't like to get their heads under water. You will notice that when descending a tree they always come down tail first. But look at that grizzly trying to get the marrow out of that bone! If there is anything bruin loves more than honey it is the marrow from a good leg bone. You can see how useful those long claws are in reaching down into the hollow bone for the delicacy that makes him smack his lips."

History of Anatomy.

The way in which we are so "fearfully and wonderfully made" was largely a mystery to the ancients. It may be said that anatomical science was practically unknown prior to Aristotle, 384 B. C. Before that date nearly all that was known of anatomy was derived from the dissection of the lower animals. Aristotle did something in the way of science, but it was not until the time of the famous Alexandrian school, a century before and a century after the birth of Christ, that the anatomy of man began to be fairly understood. The Ptolemies were great patrons of the science and were the first who enabled physicians freely to dissect the human body, thus frustrating the ignorant superstition which had been so long compromising the welfare of humanity.—Exchange.

A Crown of Love

By H. SANBORNE BROWN

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

The reigning sovereign of Atruria, Prince Carl, had a son, Oluf. A neighboring principality—Essengen—had lost its rulers in the male line, none remaining except the Princess Clothilde and her younger sister Minna. Clothilde, who occupied the throne, being a very feminine woman, was averse to the duties of sovereignty. She would have abdicated in favor of her sister, but Minna had no more desire to rule than Clothilde. Indeed, the people of Essengen were a turbulent lot who required the strong hand of a man to govern them and made no secret of their contempt for a sovereign queen.

There was every reason why the two contiguous principalities should be joined under one head. Negotiations to that effect were entered upon between Prince Carl on the one side and the nobles of Essengen on the other. It was proposed that Prince Oluf should marry the Princess Clothilde, the two to be prince and princess of the united principalities. After many demands and concessions a compact was made, and nothing remained but the consent of the two parties most especially concerned—Prince Oluf and Princess Clothilde. Prince Oluf visited the princess, and, as luck would have it, she fell desperately in love with him.

One of the points claimed by the princess' subjects was that she should be sovereign equally with the prince, her husband, for at the time of the nuptials Prince Carl was to abdicate in favor of his son. There was so much feeling among the people of Essengen that in order to satisfy them one of Clothilde's ministers suggested that she wear the iron crown of the sovereign on her head at all public functions. The crown being heavy, a light one was made, and the princess wore it nearly all the while.

Great preparations were made for the wedding, which was to take place at the capital of Essengen, after which the bridal couple were to take up their residence in Atruria. The princess was so deeply in love with Oluf that she desired his presence most of the time in Essengen. This was not pleasing to the Princess Minna, who had conceived a great dislike for the prince. Indeed, she gave out to those about her that she would be glad when the couple were married, since then they would remove to Atruria and she would no longer be troubled with the presence of a very disagreeable man.

Shortly before the nuptials were to take place the Princess Clothilde fell ill. There was at the time so much feeling on the part of her people as to her united sovereignty with the prince, who was to be her husband, that, although she was an invalid, her ministers insisted on her still wearing the iron crown. On one occasion when she had left it off a citizen of influence who opposed the union of the principalities was admitted to see her and as soon as he had left the palace attempted to foment a revolution on the ground that the princess had left off the crown.

Princess Clothilde grew worse and died, but a few days before the appointed marriage. Prince Carl, his son, Prince Oluf; the Atrurians and many Essengens were bitterly disappointed that the prospective union of the two countries had thus fallen through. Prince Oluf, however, who had taken as much liking to Princess Minna as she had taken dislike to him—indeed, it was said that had she been sovereign she would have been his choice—proposed that all that had been arranged should be carried out, Minna to become his wife instead of Clothilde.

The proposition was acceded to by the union party of Essengen, but all expected that Minna even for reasons of state would not marry a man she so cordially disliked. However, the council went to her in a body, represented to her the importance of the union of the two countries and proposed that she become the wife of the man who was to have married her sister.

She flatly refused.

Then commenced a struggle on the part of the unionists of Essengen, Prince Carl and especially Prince Oluf to induce her to change her mind. Prince Oluf, who had been in love with her instead of her sister from the start, was wild with disappointment. He wooed her with delicacy, but did not succeed in changing her antipathy for him. But what he could not bring about was in part effected by the princess' ministers. Finally on their representation that it was her duty to sacrifice herself for her people's good she consented to the marriage.

As soon as the fact was given out to the people the prime minister advised the princess to wear the iron crown.

And now a strange thing happened. Prince Oluf was advised that the princess desired to see him. He entered gloomy from the fact of a dislike on the part of the woman he loved that he had not been able to conquer. What was his surprise when the princess put her arms lovingly around his neck and her head dropped on his shoulder.

She married not only for reasons of state, but for love.

Recently experiments in Paris by scientists have established the fact that a metal circlet worn on the head of a person suffering from hysteria if afterward placed on the head of another person will produce the same effect as in the first instance.

May we infer that in this instance it produced the same love?

It is announced that President Taft will take no further hand in the New York political situation. As chief executive of nearly a hundred millions of people, it looks as if the President could keep busy with national affairs.

It took ten minutes the other day for a Kansas City woman to get a divorce on grounds of incompatibility. What's the use of going as far as Reno when the same service can be had so much nearer home?

Mayor Gaynor having reached the point where he eats three square meals a day, that pesky undercurrent of skepticism concerning the encouraging reports about him has probably exhausted itself.

Mr. Roosevelt says he is spoiling for a fight and the "Old Guard" says that it also is desirous of making the fur fly. So it looks like the country will have an opportunity of seeing who can come back.

It is announced from the laboratory of Thomas A. Edison at West Orange, N. J., that he has about completed a satisfactory solution of the problem of making moving pictures that talk. It will be wonderful but no more wonderful than the simple moving pictures were at first. And in a few years moving pictures that talk will no doubt be quite a matter of course.

Democrats couldn't hope for anything better than that Republican State Chairman Morehead should bring to the State for several speeches, as it now seems he will, Vice President Sherman. We believe the people in North Carolina are about like those in other states in their antipathy to a discredited politician. And Sherman is thoroughly discredited as a result of a recent letter written by President Taft if indeed anything was needed to discredit him.

Census report says the country's growth depends on immigrants and their progeny. Certainly! If it wasn't for these only the Indians would be here. —New York Herald.

The census report was referring to the country's growth in the last decade. It shows that the immigrants and their progeny who were in the country at the beginning of 1900 didn't increase in numbers in the period from 1900 to 1910. In other words, after becoming Americans the former immigrants appear to develop leanings to race suicide—a circumstance which we do not think especially alarming in view of the fact that the country, from one source or another, is filling up with people plenty fast enough.

The State Democratic Executive Committee has ordered a primary to decide whether Godwin or Clark shall be the Democratic nominee for Congress in the Sixth district. The plan suggested will be the means of ascertaining what the Democratic voters of the Sixth want and they are the ones to have the "say-so." The decision of the special committee and its prompt ratification by the Executive Committee will be, we believe, approved by the Democrats of the State generally. To let the majority of the qualified Democratic voters say what shall be done with regard to a matter at issue is the true Democratic way of settling differences within the party and a way that cannot be adhered to too often. It appeals to the sense of fair play of neutrals and makes the Democratic party an inviting place for just and fair-minded people.

Detroit is one of the cities that enjoyed a phenomenal growth in the decade from 1900 to 1910. The automobile is largely responsible. Says the Boston Transcript:

Detroit's astonishing growth is accounted for primarily by the automobile. For some reason it early became the centre of that industry. At one time—and the list has probably not yet shortened—it boasted of twenty-three automobile manufacturing plants, besides seventeen engaged in the production of auxiliary and subsidiary articles. It is also a great trolley car centre.

It would be interesting to know what proportion of the cash of the South has been sent to Detroit in the last ten years. Not an inconsiderable amount we are sure. Much of it could have been spent to better advantage at home undoubtedly. The capital in a half score average-priced automobiles would start a small factory.

The Columbia State has been reprimanding Congressman Lever, of South Carolina, for not making his vote in Congress square with the Democratic national platform. The Columbia Record, the State's afternoon contemporary in the local field, takes different view of the matter, leading to the following editorial in yesterday's State:

Once in four years the national Democratic convention meets. It is the supreme legislative body of the party. It formulates a declaration of principles called the platform and that is the guide and chart of the party until another convention meets and promulgates another platform.

The Columbia Record, however, says: "The Democratic platform in 1906 demanded the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ration of 16 to 1; so did the platform of 1900, or words to that effect. Did any theretofore Democrat who refused to subscribe to the free silver doctrine renounce his Democracy? Some of the very ones who are now criticising Lever most strenuously contended then that adherence to Democratic platforms was not a test of true Democracy. The party has since dropped free silver."

"Ceasar and his fortunes," which is to say Mr. Lever and his future, do not greatly concern The State, but he is an officer of the Democratic party. If this, that or the other congressman may at any moment veto this, that or the other part of the Democratic platform, then order, discipline and progress by the party are impossible. If the pledge that a Democratic candidate takes mean nothing, why take it?

If the Democratic party is not to go out of business it must enforce some measure of discipline at least upon its leaders.

It seems to us that the State has eminently the advantage in the argument. Of what good is a political party to itself or of what possibility of power and effectiveness with the people unless it has cohesiveness? Otherwise it is much like an army with several of its subdivisions in open mutiny. What sort of a battle could that sort of an army fight? The Democratic leaders should stand by the Democratic platform. They have no more right to go back on the platform than after after a nominating convention or primary the voters have to go back on the candidate.

EVADING THE LAW.

The Pictures of Flying Birds in a Mohammedan Mosque.

According to one of the tenets of the Mohammedan religion, it is a sin to make a picture of any living thing. The elaborate decorations of the palaces and mosques of the east are almost exclusively made up of ingeniously interlaced geometric designs, arabesques or flowers, intermixed with sentences of the Koran.

There is a belief among Mussulmans that at the day of judgment Allah will demand that the artist who has made the image of a living thing shall endow that image with life and that, failing to do this, the artist will be sent to perdition for his sin.

A gentleman who visited a mosque in Algiers found that the tiles with which the building is decorated, which are very old and very beautiful, are adorned with flights of birds. He expressed surprise at this and asked if the command against such representation were a modern edict.

"Oh, no," answered the pious Algerian to whom he addressed the question. "These are not pictures of living birds."

"But they are painted as if flying across the tiles," the other said in some astonishment.

"Yes," the Mussulman replied, "but do you not see that about the neck of each there is a fine black line? That is to show that the artist painted only dead birds, and the command of the Koran is not violated."

Plant Misers.

All leaf buds, whether underground or on the bare branches of winter, are plant savings put aside from the superfluity of summer against the proverbial rainy day. The starch of which such organisms consist is to the plant what his savings are to the prudent man, and the common potato is one of the greatest misers of the vegetable world in this respect, for almost the whole of the tuber is made up of starch food, left as a legacy to the young plants represented by the "eyes." This is true of all plants that grow from bulbs.

Some go further, for they run a savings bank in the shape of a taproot, which, if left undisturbed, grows larger year by year, to be drawn upon in seasons of drought when other means of subsistence are exhausted. Among these are primroses, carrots, beetroot and turnips, and with these three last this faculty of saving has been developed by man to make the plants a source of profit to himself.

No, Maude, dear; a woman isn't necessarily fair just because she is a blonde.

NO EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN

Ministers and Laymen of City Churches Call Off Great Meeting.

At a joint meeting of the ministers and a number of representative laymen from the city churches yesterday morning it was decided that it would be best to discontinue the preparations under way for the great evangelistic campaign. The churches are not financially able to raise the cash necessary to conducting the campaign and for this reason it was found impossible to hold the meeting. Accordingly the committee was instructed to inform Dr. Biederwolf, whose services had been secured to conduct the campaign if the churches decided to hold a revival of this kind, that the ministers cannot at present sign a contract for the campaign. However, it is hoped that the finances of the churches will soon be in such shape that arrangements can be made to secure the services of this noted evangelist.

The worst thing about a theory is that is so seldom pays dividends.

HELPED BY HUMIDITY.

Many Materials and Products Which Require Moist Air.

There are many materials, operations and products which require special atmospheric conditions for advantageous or profitable maintenance. Principal among such operations is the manufacture of textiles, perhaps the largest single industry carried on in factories. In the favored climate of the Lancashire district of England the natural climate affords working conditions equaled in America only on occasional days in certain localities. Even in England, however, there are many days in which the atmosphere is too dry for the best work.

Since textile fibers are increased in strength and elasticity by high humidity and moderately high temperature, breakages are less frequent under proper conditions, and the output is increased. But even before the fiber reaches the manufacturing plant atmospheric humidity plays an important part. Cotton loses weight as it dries out, but, more than that, the fibers bristle and appear shorter and of lower grade than when slightly moistened. Leather, feathers and many other porous substances lose a considerable percentage of weight in drying out, so that the maintenance of average and uniform humidity in the storage rooms has a direct advantage to the owner in maintaining the value of his goods as they lie in the warehouse. Cigars and tobacco lose flavor in dry air and regain it to some extent, after loss, by storage in proper humidified rooms. Wooden furniture and musical instruments are sometimes cracked or the finish injured by the dry air of steam heated rooms. All these and other similar goods are advantageously worked or stored in rooms in which the atmospheric humidity is artificially controlled and kept at the most desirable point.—Engineering.

A PIG'S SQUEAL.

It Played a Momentous Part In American History.

The war between this country and England in 1812 was caused by one vote, and, stranger still, the small margin came from a pig getting its head stuck in a rail fence. It was a Rhode Island fence at that, but built much like a Virginia worm fence.

They were having an election of members of the legislature in Rhode Island. One Federalist put off going to the election and left himself just time enough to get there before the polls closed. Just as he got on his horse and started for town he heard a pig squeal. He looked around and saw that the pig had its head jammed into that old rail fence, and anybody who knows anything about hogs knows that the hogs would have eaten that pig up if it hadn't been rescued. The farmer stopped long enough to liberate the pig, and when he got to the polls they were closed. He was too late.

The result was that a Democratic member of the legislature was elected from that district by one vote, and he would not have been elected if that Federal had got there on time. In the legislature a Democratic United States senator was elected by one vote, and that Democratic legislator who had been elected by one vote voted for him.

In the United States senate they voted for the war of 1812 by one vote, and that Rhode Island Democratic senator who had been elected because that pig was caught in the fence voted for the war of 1812.—Popular Magazine.

Not a Waxwork.

The opening of the courts in an assize town in England is always a great day for the residents. The procession to the church, where the judge says his prayers and listens to a homily, the march to the court, with the attendant javelin men and the braying of trumpets—the men in wigs and gowns—fill the rustic mind with the sense of awe and the majesty of justice. It is related in Mr. Thomas Edward Crispe's book, "Reminiscences of a K. C.," that a farmer once took his son into the crown court.

On the bench was the Baron Cleasby, gorgeous in scarlet and ermine, statuesque and motionless. The yokel gazed with open mouth at the resplendent figure on the raised dais. Suddenly the baron moved his hand from right to left and left to right.

"Why, feyther," said the boy, "it's aloive!"

A Friend In Need.

Algie—I say, Fred, you're—aw—a fwiend of mine, aren't you?

Fred—Sure.

Algie—Then be a good fellow and—aw—help me out. I'd like to have that pwetty cousin of youahs learn all about my—aw—good points, doncher know.

Fred—I am helping you, old chap. I argued with her for two hours yesterday trying to convince her that you weren't as big a fool as you look.—Chicago News.

Laughter.

Without laughter the human race would have wept itself to death or exterminated itself long ago. Pathos is beautiful; tragedy is absorbing. But both pathos and tragedy are instantly routed by the laugh.

A Memorable Date.

"What member of the class can mention one memorable date in Roman history?" the teacher asked.

"Antony's with Cleopatra," ventured one of the boys.—Everybody's.

What is civilization? I answer, the power of good women.—Emerson.

Number Twenty-Two Derailed.

Train number 22, Asheville to Goldsboro, was derailed near Connelly Springs yesterday afternoon. No one was injured, but the track was blocked for several hours. A train was made up at Salisbury and ran as No. 22, arriving here shortly after the schedule time.

Every smoker, every user of the weed in any form should visit the new cigar store (Wade's) on Saturday. 2t

The Fire Alarm.

A broken wire yesterday afternoon caused the fire bell to strike twice. The Postal Telegraph Company was setting some new poles and the wire was accidently broken. It was soon repaired, however. Supt. Cox states that the alarm is in tip top shape at present.

Mrs. N. C. Weatherly Will Do a Strictly Cash Business.

After September 15, Mrs. Weatherly will discontinue the credit business and sell strictly for cash on delivery. This step will be of mutual benefit, for it is evident, that if no money is put out for stationery, postage, collectors per cent and no lost accounts, she can sell goods much less than any house running on the credit system. Her goods will be marked for cash and sold for cash only. Mrs. Weatherly wishes to take the opportunity to thank the ladies for their liberal patronage and solicit a continuance of the same under the new cash system.

WILL TAKE UP HIS OFFICIAL DUTIES SOON.

President Moffitt, of Elon College, Has Recovered From Recent Illness.

Elon College, Aug. 25.—President Moffitt, after an absence of nearly five months because of serious illness, has returned to his home, refreshed and strengthened, and will enter upon the active duties of his office with the opening of the fall term, September the 7th. Dr. Moffitt is heavier than he has been for many years and seems to be in perfect health. His physicians caution him against the steady application for the first few weeks but assure him that he is permanently well. This intelligence will be welcomed by his many friends educational and personal.

The deep well, completed about a week ago, is the talk of the town. It is almost incredible that such a flow of water, more than 100 gallons per minute according to the company that bored it, should be found at such a comparatively shallow depth. The quality of the water is equally as remarkable as its quantity. The college is most fortunate in securing such a supply of water for its sewer, light, and water and heat plants. Hot water pipes are now being installed directly from the Central Power Station to the various buildings, which will obviate the necessity of having each building heat its own water for the baths.

The prospect now is for the best opening in the institution's history. This statement is given upon the estimates sent in from various sections and states served by the college. Applications are already in from eight of the Southern States. Students will begin to arrive the last of next week. The opening day is Septtember 7th.

The Alamance County Sunday-School Association will hold its annual Convention in the extreme southern part of the county on Saturday and Sunday of this week. Profs. Wicker and Harper will appear on the program.

The Vacation Number of th e Elon College Weekly will appear from the press the first of next week. Editor Lawrence is now busy in getting it ready.

Have You Ever Said:

"I don't see how all the Magazines live?"—

Undoubtedly you have. Probably you have often stood before some news stand and wondered what magazines to buy. There are a lot of magazines. Most of them are mighty good and most of them live because they are good

But there's one magazine that not only lives but GROWS. There are fifteen or more good reasons for this in every issue. These reasons are its "unbeatable" features—the special articles obtained at enormous cost—the best fiction in the world—and its powerful, sincere editorial purpose.

The September number for example: Every feature is a big one. It is actually stuffed with big, vital news—information that you ought to have, articles that explain things, stories that every member of your family will read with intense delight. Here are some of the extra good things:

Splendid Fiction. Stories—fine ones—by Arthur Stringer Alice Brown, Mary Heaton Vorse, George Fitch and John Fleming Wilson.

"The Tooth Tinkers"—An account by Roy L. McCardell of "Painless Parkers" and their swindles.

"The Czar of Footwear"—Startling facts—all brand new—about the Shoe Machinery Trust, by Judson C. Welliver.

"In Reno Riotous"—A great story of the Johnson-Jeffries fight, by Harris Merton Lyon, filled with personality, crowded with local color, and illustrated just right.

The magazine that not only lives but grows is the magazine that is giving to the country "Peary's Own Story," a $50,000 feature; it is the magazine that is publishing the first English translation in America of M. Rostand's world famous drama "Chantecler." It is "the Best Magazine in America" and it is called

CHANCE FOR GIRLS

San Antonio Light and Gazette.

Oh, you girls, just listen! Here is one lone bachelor, and a cowman at that, who resides in San Antonio, and who issues the deffi to Dan Cupid or any pretty maid to tie a bell on him. He has wealth, according to his statement made to Postmaster Stevens; is a brunett, fairly good-looking, and is 35 years old. In his letter to Dan Cupid, alias Postmaster J. J. Stevens, the giddy man of the plains says:

"Old Dan Cupid Mr. Stevens: I have been reading of late of the many pretty girls in the North, and, in fact, from all portions of the United States, who were in search of a cow-boy husband and one that they could love the balance of their days. During the last 15 years I have gone with many girls and in each instance they all told the same story, and that was that they had no bad faults and that they were perfect in every respect. This same old-repeated tale almost made a woman hater out of me, but things have changed since that time and I am commencing to believe that I will let the woman folk have another trial to tie a bell on me.

"With this object in view I will for the next month receive proposals from young ladies that are seeking a cowpuncher of Texas, and will exchange photographs with them. My motive in seeking a life partner in this manner is entirely sincere, if the girls will just give me a chance to make a pick of my choice. The successful winner of my heart and hand I will take on a bridal tour, which will embrace a greater portion of the world. I have a nice ranch 100 miles west of San Antonio and have enough money to insure me from any kind of hard work for many years to come. I am a man 35 years old, fairly good-looking, a brunette, weigh 170 pounds, 6 feet talll and a pleasant disposition. My name is Joseph Hardman, and my address for the next 30 days will be in care of Dan Cupid J. J. Stevens, postmaster, San Antonio, Texas."

From Sickness to "Excellent Health."

So says Mrs. Chas. Lyon, Peoria, Ill.: "I found in your Foley Kidney Pills a prompt and speedy cure for backache and kidney trouble which bothered me for many months. I am now enjoying excellent health which I owe to Foley Kidney Pills."—Holton Drug Co.

EMPRESS EUGENIE'S TOMB.

Unique Resting Place Prepared in the Church at Farnborough.

London cor. N. Y. Times.

When in the fullness of time the Empress Eugenie comes to die she will be interred in a tomb which is unique in England, if not in the world.

There has just been made a remarkable addition to the mausoleum in the Benedictive Abbey Church at Farnborough, which was built by the Empress Eugenie at a total cost of over $500,000.

On eeither side of thehigh altar are granite sarcophagi containing the remains of Napoleon III and the Prince Imperial. Behind the altar is a small door leading into the monastery, and over this an arcosolium has now been built into the wall. It is designed by French architects, and is of stone throughout.

This new work forms the frame work of a tomb, the third which the church is destined to receive, and in which the Empress is to be interred.

Acute or Chronic—Which?

No matter if your kidney trouble is acute or chronic Foley's Remedy will reach your case. Mr. Claude Brown, Reynoldsville, Ill., writes us that he suffered many months with kidney complaint which baffled all treatment. At last he tried Foley's Kidney Remedy and a few large bottles effected a complete cure. He says: "It has been of inestimable value to me." Holton Drug Co.
